

Education and Learner Experience Intent Strategy 2024-2026

Foreword

Intent - This Education and Learner Experience Strategy has been created to align with Insite's Mission, Vision, and Values the UK PLC skills agenda, Ofsted's quality agenda and the ESFA funding and performance requirements. It will provide Insite's staff the opportunity to remind themselves of what the purpose of Insite and its staff is.

Implement - It is crucial that this education and learner experience strategy is made available to all HGV Training Service's staff and its partnering organisations. It should be considered by all to be a strong reference point to better understand how we can provide and deliver the best education and learner experience for our current and future learners.

Impact - The strategy will act as our road-map for the next three years to prioritise our initiatives and make decisions.

James Clifford
Chief Executive Officer Insite

Our overarching aim is ‘to deliver outstanding education, training, advice and guidance that makes a difference improving our local social and business communities.’

We will do this by meeting the following ambitions:

1. We will be recognised locally and nationally for our high-quality, education, training, vocational and professional teaching. We will provide relevant and well-designed sequenced programmes of learning for our learners and their employers (where applicable).
2. We will provide education, training, Skills Bootcamps, advice and guidance that will inspire our learners to make a difference; producing individuals who will be knowledgeable, skilled, confident and able to meet and exceed their ambitions. We will support all our learners to succeed and wherever possible to become potential leaders of the future and to make a difference to society.
3. We will nurture a sustainable and collaborative community of partner organisations, associates, instructors, and facilitation staff to recognise the significance of research-led teaching, learning, assessment, quality assurance and evidence-based instruction. We will continue to invest and develop our staff and that of our partner organisations. We will support and recognise excellence and innovation in education, and the importance of excellence with associated support functions whilst we concurrently maintain an ‘all for one’ ethos that embeds excellence and success as part of our learner’s experience and learner outcomes.
4. We will provide a safe infrastructure and welcoming learning environments to support our learners and staff in the delivery of our professional development and Skills Bootcamp programmes. Our learner experience will be based on quality teaching, learning, assessment, quality assurance, learning spaces and resources all supported by appropriate and readily accessible communication.

The following indicates the ambitions, key priorities and accompanying high-level actions for the Education and Learner Experience Strategy.
